

Changes to the Daily Report

In response to feedback, we are experimenting with some changes to the Yosemite Daily Report. You'll notice that today's and subsequent Daily Reports will look a bit different. They will be organized as follows:

Weather

No change. We will continue using the National Weather Service forecasts and will include relevant Advisories and Outlooks to the Yosemite area.

New and Happening Today

Newly submitted items and events happening today will run in this section. No longer will you find separate sections for "Park and Partner News," "Employee News," and "Community News"; everything is here.* If you read the Daily, well, daily, then this is all you need to read to stay updated on everything. There is no need to scroll through to look for new announcements elsewhere.

Recent News

After appearing their first day in "New and Happening Today," items will remain in "Recent News" for the duration of the week (not the two-day limit in place previously). At the end of each week, the "Recent News" section will be emptied out so it starts fresh again the following Monday. Items will be listed in reverse chronological order of when they first appeared (Monday's news on bottom, Tuesday's above, Wednesday's above, and so on). Basically this means that if you've missed some Daily Reports, you can scroll down into "Recent News" to catch up. Once you see items you have already read, it means you're all caught up (since the items beneath it are even older).

Construction and Traffic Delays

This section will remain as before. Ongoing construction projects or other longer-term events that might impact travel (e.g. prescribed fires) will be moved here from "New and Happening Today" instead of to "Recent News." These items will remain as long as the event is ongoing and will therefore not be cleaned out at the end of each week like "Recent News."

Acting Designations

No change. Items submitted for this section will only appear here and will remain as long as the designation is occurring. This will always be the last section of the Daily Report, so you can always find it quickly by scrolling to the end.

Any feedback or questions should be submitted to yose_daily_report@nps.gov (not the sender's personal email account!).

*Since community announcements will now be sitting side-by-side with official NPS announcements, it is important to remember that items are included for informational purposes only and are not necessarily endorsed by the National Park Service.

This means if you submit a new item to run in Friday's Daily Report, it will only appear in that edition (and the day of the event, if applicable).
